

Retirement Party

Imagine it is many years in the future and you're attending your retirement party. It's full of people there to celebrate a meaningful and impactful career. You can't help but think: "Wow! What a ride that was! Look at all of the people I helped, look at how many teams and organizations I touched, and look at how much I grew." Put some thought into what will make you say those things.

Question	Answer
What were the big things you did? The big ones. The Top 3.
Who did you help?
How did you help them?
What did you set aside so you could focus on them?
What are the people at your party saying about you?
How do you need to grow to make that a reality?

Ideas for improvement: